With the aim of providing people with affordable housing in areas they want to live, The Hyde Group has over 120,000 customers in London and the South East. The complete refurbishment of their Lewisham office came about as a result of a major strategic review carried out by location, property and business relocation solutions experts Location Strategy Management (LSM). Clarke Rendall, who had produced the reception desk for The Hyde Group's Head Office three years earlier, were once again specified when the project's implementation was handed over to relocation and fit-out specialists Itineri.

From space plan drawings and materials specifications drawn up by LSM, Alex Corbett, responsible for furniture procurement at Itineri, liaised with the design team at Clarke Rendall over the production of a final working reception desk design. Required to match the existing Corian® desktop and subtly backlit acrylic panels of the head office desk, the new design also incorporated some distinctive integral privacy booths and a DDA recess. Once approved, production was scheduled to fit with Itineri's strict timetable of events, and when asked about how the project had gone Alex responded: "It was absolutely brilliant - installed over a single day, fitting the programme exactly, so no issues at all". He also went on to describe the quality as "better than others we've used. We'll definitely be coming back to you for future projects".
